one of the most interesting chapters of the report is found in the evidence given befort the Commission by Florentino Torres. Attorney General of the Philippines under the United States. Mr. Torres says in part:

"The social relations which the friars have maintained with the Filipinos are the most injurious. They have endeavored to keep the Filipinos in ignorance, opposing, wherever they could bring their pressure to bear, the teaching of the Spanish language by primary school teachers. They have cendemned in their preachings and private conversation every desire for culture and civilization, antagonizing the best purpose of the Madrid Government or of that of these islands, as well in the faint and meagre reforms in behalf of the progress and chication of the Filipinos as in the economical measures which to a certain extent effect the interests of the corporations, although they may redound to the great benefit of the people; and having arrogated to themselves the tile of mentors and directors of this society. Instead of teaching the Filipinos cultured social behavior becoming to civilized men, they educated and formed them morally with that narrow character, little frank and distrustful, which is noticeable in the generality of the people, especially in the more ignorant, making them stubborn and suspicious of intercourse and relations with foreigners.
"It can be asserted without exaggeration that the friars have been and are a fatal hindrance to the advancement, moral and material, of this country, from the very fact that they have devoted themselves to keeping this society in ig-

FUEL FROM COMMON EARTH. The Alleged Discovery of an Omaha

Inventor. OMAHA, Neb., March 25.-E. J. Hoffman professes to have invented a process whereby the clods of the field will burn as well as anthracite coal. Crude petroleum, he says, mixed with cluded), with the addition of two other ingredients, the nature of which constitutes his secret, will make a fuel that will burn better and with a cleaner fire than pine knots. Seventy-five per cent of this composition is mother earth. The expense of the other free logredients is but a trifle. His fuel costs $2.50 per ton.

Hoffman produced two samples of his new fuel. In appearance they resembled the hard rubber balls used by children. "This one," said he, "is $2 per cent crude petroleum, solidified by a chemical process, and it costs about $2.15 per ton to produce it. The other is 75 per cent common earth, and can be placed on the market at $2.5° per ton."

A HALL FOR CORNELL ALUMNI. Competition of Architects Warrant-

Y., March 25.-The Cornel Alumni Committee entrusted with the fund for the erection of an alumni hall has decided that there are sufficient funds in sight to warrant holding a competition test the purpose of choosing an architect for the building. The proposed hall will cost $50,000 and will be modeled after the student hall at the University of Pennsylvania. It will contain a library and reading-room, athletic features, baths, swimming pool, smoking and writing-rooms, offices for college publications, and perhaps a dining hall. It has become the fashion for graduat ing classes to leave their class memorial in the form of a large subscription to the fund. It has also been growing through private subscription. The university trustees will furnish the site.

There are more boats building than ever, and several new classes have been started, and in old classes, where a few fast boats have enjoyed their laurels in comparative ease, new rivals are spring-ing up which promise to give them many an anxious moment.

The largest yacht building is Robert E. Tod's 110-foot (water line) schooner. She will not be ready for the earlier races, but will tread many a measure with the Hildegarde and Constellation before the eason's close. W. Gould Brokaw's Amorita and H. F.

F. Brewster.
Yawl racing has been somewhat neglected in recent years, but it is to be brought to the front again. Percy Chubb, who owns the old Cup defender Vigilant, is having her rig changed, and Royal Phelps Carroll's Navahoe is undergoing a similar alteration. These two, with H. S. Redmond's Alisa, from over seas, will furnish many a race that will gladden the hearts of yawl admirers. Many crack English cutters have become good Americans during the last year. The 65-footers Isolde and Astrid, owned by Frederick M. ris, of Charleston, S. C. CHARLESTON, S. C., March 25 .- A warrant was sworn out here Saturday against Mrs. Kate Xenia Morris, who, up to November last, was State president of the Woman's Christian Temperance ey under false pretences. The war-rant was issued on the affidavit of Albert H. Mowry, jr., Secretary of the Charleston Dry Goods Company. Mowry alleges that Mrs. Merris called at his establishment, bought goods to the extent of $28, presented a check for $40, and got the balance in cash.
